KIWI MONOCHROME MASTERS

A handful of New Zealand photographers have made a splash at this year's edition of the biggest international awards programme celebrating the art of black-and-white photography.

Five local photographers — four professionals and one amateur — have been recognized in the prestigious Black and White Spider Awards, now celebrating its eighth year.

D-Photo is very proud to present the successful New Zealand images — selected by a jury of experts from the likes of the Tate galleries, National Geographic, and Fratelli Alinari photography firm — of the 2013 Spider Awards.
